

Bernard Controls' actuators on a water treatment plant in Algeria

A few months ago, Bernard Controls Africa installed nearly a hundred electric actuators in a water treatment plant, in Wilaya Guelma area, Northern Algeria.

There, the local authorities decided to extend the drinking water system of this water treatment plant. For this project, Bernard Controls Africa delivered 84 electric actuators, from EZ, ET and ASM ranges. Mounted on butterfly valves, these quarter-turn and multi-turn actuators will control the water flow, to reach 500 litres per second.

Through the entire project, from the definition of customer's need to the installation on site, the customer relied on a dedicated support from Bernard Controls, especially thanks to the presence of a local team in Africa.
